

Bemberg Cupro is a high quality brand that is breathable, light, durable and with a silky touch looks and feels great to wear. Whilst there are many aspects to the quality of a garment the choice of lining is an important one.

The origins of Bemberg dates back to the late 19th century so Bemberg has stood the test of time for over eight decades and has been a number one choice for the best names of the world clothing and fashion industry.

Bemberg Cupro's raw material is cotton. This lining as well as its great breathability, is anti-allergic, anti-static, and resistant to the higher temperatures of stretching. This unique material regulates its humidity according to the external one, and causes a comfortable sensation of freshness when worn.

Bemberg Cupro is also good for the environment being biodegradable fabric produced using a renewable resource.

It feels so precious